open

Artists and crafts people open their doors to the public.

Suggestions how to use:

This larger sign is designed to go on the front door of your venue so that visitors know they have arrived at their destination.

The blank area below the words “Artists and crafts people...” is for you to write you name/s, or maybe just ‘Open Today’.

In case of rain, we strongly recommend that you then laminate them (best to use the thicker gauge if available). If you do not have a laminating machine your local stationery supplier or print shop should be able to help.

Signs are best put up the morning of the event, any earlier and they may well be removed by street cleaners. To be safe, you might also want to take them down Saturday night and re-erect on Sunday morning.
